ODD FELLOWS AND REBEKAHS GET CONVENTION UNDER WAY TODAY

Public Exercises in the City Auditorium Mark Informal Opening of Grand Lodge Session.

DELEGATES STILL COMING

Odd Fellows and Rebekahs of North Dakota, in session today, got down to serious business this afternoon with meetings of the grand lodge of Odd Fellows and the assembly of Rebekahs.

The morning program consisted chiefly of public exercises at the city auditorium. The visitors were welcomed by Mayor Lenhart. A memorial service was held for the late Robert M. Pollock, past grand master of North Dakota.

Delegates and visitors continued to visit the city during the day and the full strength of the convention will not be reached before tonight, it is believed. One party coming from the north was reported to have encountered muddy roads and was held up, but was expected to reach the city today.

The Oakes delegation of between 40 and 50, probably the largest from any one city, drove into the city in automobiles last night through a driving rain. More than 80 visitors and delegates were expected here by tonight.

A short musical program preceded the welcome address to the visitors at the morning meeting. The response was made by Grand Master Robble. Dr. H. J. Rowe, of Lisbon, a life-long friend of Judge Pollock, delivered the memorial address in his honor, paying a beautiful tribute to his memory.

A memorial pageant in honor of those who gave their lives in the defense of the nation was presented by 20 ladies of the Bismarck Rebekah lodge, with Mrs. Nellie Everts in the leading role. Clad in flowing white gowns the beautiful patriotic ceremony was presented in a most impressive manner. A memorial address was delivered by Harold Thompson, of Cavalier.

Special honor was paid to Odd Fellows and Rebekahs, at the exercises when the degree of chevalier was conferred. At 1 o'clock the delegates marched to the federal building, where a picture was taken of the entire group.

Little talk has been heard of candidates for the next convention, but Minot delegates have let it be known that they would be glad to report back to their lodge that the 1923 grand lodge meeting had been awarded that city.

The home committee of seven, appointed last year to consider sites for the home and which was charged with the duty of selecting sites, is expected to report its findings to the convention tomorrow.

The Odd Fellows program has been somewhat disarranged by pressure of business. It is planned, however, to have a banquet Thursday evening, a parade at 7:30 Thursday evening, followed by a street carnival and dance and entertainment at Elks hall. The automobile trip around the city, tendered by the Town Officers, may not be taken because of the inability of the grand lodge to find time in which to permit delegates to go.

TO CLOSE EARLY ON SATURDAYS

Bismarck Banks Adopt Rule Of Other Cities

Banks of Bismarck will close at 1 P. M. on Saturdays during the months of June, July, August and September. It was decided today. In taking this step the Bismarck banks are adopting a rule now prevailing in all of the larger cities of the state. In Fargo, Grand Forks and Dickinson banks close at noon Saturday, but it was decided to make the closing hour at 1 P. M. in this city. The banks' announcement follows:

IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE ESTABLISHED custom of all other states and of many cities in North Dakota, we the undersigned national and state banks hereby agree to close at one o'clock on Saturdays during the months of June, July, August and September of the year 1921, instead of the usual closing time of three-thirty.

CONVENTION NOTES

Visitors are finding much of interest in the state capitol, particularly the exhibits in the state museum. The penitentiary, Ft. Lincoln and new bridge also have been visited by many.

The headquarters and rest room in the Hoskins building is proving a boon to delegates. Members of the local Odd Fellows and Rebekah lodges are on duty there, registering visitors, adding them in room assignments and furnishing information. Hundreds of citizens are wearing badges with their names on them and are courteously assisting visitors.

Kenmare is advertising her town to the visitors and is after the Odd Fellows home. Their pamphlet, styled "Kenmare, the park city," with a slogan of "Kenmare, It's Anywhere."

Bismarck boosters have arranged an attractive card setting forth the advantages of the Capital City—the city of opportunity—as a location for the Odd Fellows home. One of the chief assets of the city, which has impressed many delegates, are the excellent library facilities offered by the city and state libraries, the beautiful new Memorial building which will house a wonderful museum and library, and the many happenings in the state capital which would be of interest to people in the home.

Among the first arrivals to the convention were: M. C. Berger, Ft. Rice, Mr. and Mrs. Bruns, Esmond; I. W. Byler, Dickinson; A. A. Bahls, Grand Forks; Richard Brown, Hazelton; Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Cutman, Dickinson; Fred Colby, Valley City; Avelina Gill, Portal; Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hayes, Dickinson; John Halverson, Valley City; F. W. Heide, Valley City; Florence Inkler, Carrington; J. A. Jamieson, Wallhalla; Mrs. King, Williston; Mrs. E. R. Kreutz, Lisbon; Ray Lee, Minot; Jacob Lierba, Minot; E. T. Morrow, Kenmare; W. H. Therson, Valley City; Mrs. Nierling, Jamestown; J. M. Patton, Sioux Falls, S. D.; Ethel Peterson, Dickinson; Mrs. F. E. Paine, Fargo; E. H. Rogers, Dickinson; F. Hedrick, Grand Forks; J. W. Stein, Killdeer; Gilbert Sonenson, Casselton; T. O. Stounan, Dazey; Emil Stohler, Kenmare; Mrs. Stitz, Drake; John Truhitt, Detroit, Minn.; Helen Vohs, Williston; Charles Wesson, Killdeer.

George Dickinson, of Minnawaukon, returned two weeks ago from Oregon. He was a visitor at Albany, Ore., during a meeting of the grand lodge of Oregon. There were 5,000 Odd Fellows and Rebekahs present. The Oregon lodge has 27,000 Odd Fellows and 23,000 Rebekahs, but he said he was told by Oregonians that the grand lodge of North Dakota is in better financial shape to provide a home than the Oregon lodge. "I never was so proud I was an Odd Fellow," said Mr. Dickinson, speaking of the remarkable numbers at the Oregon convention.

Mr. D. W. Cowley, of Guelph, and Mr. P. R. LaBrant, of Stanley, are the only two men delegates to the Daughters of Rebekah assembly.

A delegation of about 40 from Oakes came in last night. They encountered rough going in the rain the last few miles but came in happy, making a lot of noise.

The auto of J. W. Menifee, of near Bismarck, an enthusiastic Odd Fellow, skidded into the "iron policeman" at Fourth and Broadway, and dragged it about 20 feet before he could stop.

The Daughters of Rebekah had such a crowd at their meeting in Odd Fellows hall last night that many delegates sat on the floor during the meeting.

Dr. H. J. Rowe, of Casselton, finds many old friends in Bismarck. He was a member of the legislature for many years. He carries a gift from Odd (Continued on page 8.)

ODD FELLOWS' HOMES IN MANY STATES IN UNION CARRY OUT TRUE FRATERNITY PRINCIPLES

North Dakota will join the long list of other states having Odd Fellows' homes, if the expected action of the present convention here materializes. A description of Odd Fellows' homes in the United States given by Joseph M. Wolfe, of Minneapolis, in a hook in which the principles upon which the homes are established and maintained are set forth.

The first home erected in Pennsylvania in 1872 was established for the purpose of securing better attention for dependants than the individual lodges could possibly give, and to welcome and remove from the individual lodges the responsibility and study of such cases which might come to their attention. Since the first lodge home was established in Pennsylvania at Mendocville, others have been added until there are now seven in that state.

ELECTRIC RATE IS DECREASED BY COMMISSION

Order Handed Down in Petition on Hughes Electric Company Case

VALUATION IS $410,000

Commission Uses Historical Reproduction Method for Determining Rate

The state railroad commission today handed down its order in the case of the Hughes Electric company, ordering a reduction in rates.

The commission arrived at a valuation of $410,000 for the plant, being the valuation stipulated by attorneys for the petitioning citizens and the utility company, to be used in rate-making. The commission adopted the historical reproduction basis of valuation it was stated, rather than "going value" or the present cost of production.

The commission set aside the contract of the city with the company for special rates for lighting the city hall, etc., and fixed rates which are now in effect, it being stated by the commission that the company had not observed the franchise special rates. The rate changes follow:

First 100 kilowatt hours, general lighting, 13 cents to 11 1/2 cents.
Next 100, 12 cents to 10 1/2 cents.
Next 100, 11 cents to 9 cents.
Next 100, 10 cents to 8 cents.
Next 100, 9 cents to 7 cents.
All over 500 k. w. h., 7 cents. Present rate all over 600 k. w. h., 7 cents.

City Hall Rate
The commission fixed a rate of 11 cents for the 100 k. w. h. for lighting the city hall, with a scaling down to 5 cents for all over 500 kilowatts.

For electric power it fixed a rate of 6 cents for the first 1,000 kilowatts, 5 cents for the next 1,000; 4 cents for the next 5,000; 3 1/2 cents for the next 5,000; and 3 cents for all over 12,000.

For electric cooking it made a rate of 3 1/2 cents per kilowatt hour with a minimum meter charge of $1 per month.

At the hearing it was stated on behalf of the company that it contemplated a reduction on some items. It was stated for the commission that it was figured that under present rates the company had earned 15 to 20 percent on a fair valuation and that the new rates were on the basis of an 8 percent return.

The steam heat rate was fixed at 75 cents for the first 200,000 pounds of condensation, 70 cents for the next 200,000 and 65 cents for all over 500,000.

Opinion of Commission.
The opinion of the commission, at the outset, says that "a number of complaints have been received by the commission during the past two years alleging that the rates of the Hughes Electric company, of Bismarck, were unreasonable and extortionate, and goes on to say the commission has reviewed all the facts in the case."

The company operates in Bismarck under a 25-year franchise, dating from August 10, 1900. The franchise provides that the company shall furnish electric current to light the city hall, engine house and city offices without cost to the city and that it shall furnish street lighting at a rate reached on agreement with the city.

Expense of Free Service.
"While the expense of furnishing free service is properly borne by the users of electric light and power service, and a provision such as that contained in the franchise calling for such free service does not appear proper to the commission yet, in view of the decision of the supreme court on this subject in (Western Electric v. City of Jamestown), and there being no complaint by the petitioners of discrimination preferential to the city, no action will be taken by the commission at this time on this question," the opinion says.

Against Special Rates.
The commission held that special rates made by the Hughes Electric company to the Bismarck Water Supply (Continued on page six)

ROB MILL CITY BANK OPPOSITE POLICE STATION

Minneapolis, June 1.—Five men in a large touring car held up two messengers of the Millers and Traders bank here shortly after 9 a. m. today and escaped with $18,000 in currency. The bank is located opposite police headquarters.

The messengers had driven in an automobile from the Northwestern National bank, and as they reached the Millers and Traders bank the hold-up men stepped from a machine, pressed pistols against them and forced them to hand over the bags containing the money.

Many people saw the robbers as they jumped back into their car and sped away into the heavy traffic where pursuing policemen lost trace of them.

PRISONER WHO ESCAPED STILL BEING HUNTED

Denial of Right to Appeal For Pardon Believed to Have Caused Lehman Escape

FATHER HAD INTERCEDED

Information that state pardon board, which meets this week, would not consider his plea for clemency is believed to have prompted the action of Adolpha Lehman, prison convict, in failing to return to the prison after he had been out exercising prison bloodhounds with another "trusty."

Lehman's father, it was learned, was in the city interceding with members of the pardon board, but he received no encouragement, it is understood. Lehman was serving a 20-year sentence for murder in the second degree and had been in prison about a year and five months.

Lehman was convicted of killing Mathias Wetstein in Richardson. He was sentenced by Judge W. L. Nuesle, then sitting as judge in the Sixth judicial district. He had been charged with murder in the first degree and was convicted of murder in the second degree. The case went to the supreme court, but his appeal was denied.

Condemned Crime.
The supreme court, according to Justice Grace's opinion, found that "at the commencement of trouble, assuming the evidence true, the deceased committed an overt act by threatening to take the life of defendant and engaged in physical encounter, later desisted, threatened to get a gun and shoot defendant and defendant pursued and shot at him while pursuing, followed him into the house and through it to a bedroom, where he and his mother-in-law tried by holding against the door to prevent the defendant from entering and who, after failing to push the door in shot into and through the door twice, wounding the deceased and afterwards entering and shooting him to death."

Claimed Self-Defense.
Lehman claimed self-defense. Justice Grace, speaking of the crime, said that: "Seldom, in the annals of crime, is there recorded a more revolting one, or one accompanied by more savage cruelty. It is a crime which underscores the record in this case admits of no excuse."

The supreme court opinion, speaking of the cause of the murder, related that Lehman had called on Mrs. Wetstein before her marriage, and wished to continue the acquaintance, but Mrs. Wetstein objected.

Cut to $146 Monthly
Shop crafts employees and train and engine service men, except those in passenger service, are reduced 8 cents an hour. Construction and section foremen are reduced 10 cents an hour, cutting their average monthly pay to $146.

The railroad labor board recently reclassified various employees in connection with railway operations, and this, it was pointed out, may have some effect on labor costs.

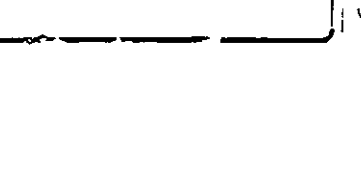

Chicago, June 1.—Wage reductions ordered by the Railroad Labor Board resulted from a combined hearing involving 104 railroads which filed petitions to cut the wages of one or more classes of employees. The hearing began on April 18 and the labor and railroad representatives were each granted one week to present their cases. The final date for submitting evidence was set for May 16 and the board has been at work on the case constantly since that date.

Reduction in the wages of laborers in other industries and the declining cost of living were set forth by the railroads as the basis of their plea for lower wage scales. The winter slump in business materially hastened action in the endeavor to cut down the country's railroad pay roll and many railroad officials declared before the board that their roads would be in the hands of receivers unless immediate relief was provided.

Unskilled First
The campaign for lower wages was begun in February when Big Gen W. W. Atterbury, vice president of the Pennsylvania Lines, first demanded the right to hire unskilled labor at the rate prevailing in each road's territory. Gen. Atterbury brought his demand to the board during the hearing on rules and working conditions, which the board has not yet disposed of.

WAGES SLASHED ON RAILROADS; RATES FOLLOW?

Railroad Labor Board Makes Decision Affecting 104 Railroad Lines

HARDING TALKS RATES

President Visits Interstate Commerce Commission to Discuss Subject

Washington, June 1.—Downward revision of railroad rates, particularly of those on necessities, was discussed by President Harding today with members of the Interstate Commerce Commission at an informal conference at the commission's headquarters. The president was understood to have been assured that the whole subject now was under review by the commission.

Mr. Harding inquired particularly about the prospects for modification of rates on fruit. The commission officials are understood to have told him that they were making considerable progress upon a plan for obtaining a reduction in some rates through concerted action by the carriers. It was said that this movement and the general work of ironing out inequalities had gone much farther than information hitherto given the public had indicated. Details, however, were not made public.

Chicago, June 1.—Four hundred million dollars a year will be slashed from the nation's railway wage bill when an order handed down today by the United States Railroad Labor Board takes full effect. The decree is effective July 1 on 104 lines. Granting the petitions of the companies the board will direct an average cut of 12 per cent which eventually will apply to all the railroad companies of the country. Members of 31 unions are affected immediately.

The cuts range from 5 to 13 cents an hour, or from $10.20 a month for apprentice boys to $26.32 for the better paid skilled labor, figuring on an eight hour day basis. The decision granted reductions varying from 5 to 18 per cent, and in the case of section laborers, completely wiped out the increase granted that class of employees by the $600,000,000 wage award of July 20, 1920. Section men who have been receiving $3.70 for an eight-hour day were cut to $3.02, the same figure in effect under federal control. The reduction was approximately 18 per cent.

Train Service Men Cut
Switchmen and shop crafts were given a 9 per cent reduction while the train service men were cut approximately 7 per cent. Car repairers were cut about 10 per cent.

While the decrease is specifically applied for the present only to the 104 roads whose cases have been heard by the board, the decision says it may later be applied to any other road asking a hearing in accordance with the provisions of the Esch-Cummings transportation act.

The decision is based on the present rates of pay as established by the $600,000,000 wage award of July 20, 1920. Common labor pay, over which the railroads made their hardest fight, is to be reduced 6 to 8 1/2 cents an hour, cutting freight truck and track labor wages to $7.11. This new schedule still gives section men an average daily wage of $3.02 for an eight-hour day, although considerable testimony offered by the roads, particularly in the south, showed common labor wages as low as $1.50 for a ten-hour day.

Cut to $146 Monthly
Shop crafts employees and train and engine service men, except those in passenger service, are reduced 8 cents an hour. Construction and section foremen are reduced 10 cents an hour, cutting their average monthly pay to $146.

MARTIAL LAW IS DECLARED BY GOVERNOR AS FIRES RAGE THROUGH THE NEGRO QUARTER

One Report Declared That 75 Persons Were Killed in Fighting Which Lasted Throughout the Night—Two Efforts Made to Fire Negro Quarter and Firemen Are Driven From Streets When They Attempt to pour water on Flames—White Residence Districts Imperilled and Negroes are Huddled in Convention Hall and Ball Park.

Estimate Dead at 175
Tulsa, Okla., June 1.—Major Daly of the police force estimated the dead in riots here at one hundred and seventy-five, including negroes burned in homes.

Oklahoma City, June 1.—Martial law in Tulsa was ordered by Governor Robertson at 11:15 a. m. today and Adjutant General Barrett placed in command of the city. The order was given over the long-distance telephone. A proclamation issued to this effect was being prepared for immediate issuance.

The order of Governor Robertson invoking military law over Tulsa was extended to include all of Tulsa county. The order places the Adjutant-General in supreme command of the city and county.

Oklahoma City, Okla., June 1.—Seventy-five persons, whites and negroes, have been killed in the race outbreak in Tulsa, according to a telephone message to Governor Robertson here today from the chief of police at Tulsa.

Tulsa, Oklahoma, June 1.—Nearly ten blocks of the south side of the negro section of Tulsa, where an armed conflict has been in progress between white men and negroes since early last night, resulting in a reported death list of at least six whites and 60 negroes and a rapidly increasing list of wounded, were in flames today.

3 ORDINANCES PLACED BEFORE CITY FATHERS

One Regulates Public Dance Halls and Prohibits After Midnight Dancing

Ordinances regulating public dance halls, prohibiting the opening up of sand and gravel pits within the city and requiring sewer connections from houses on streets where there are sewers were introduced in the city commission last night. The commission gave final passage to the ordinance extending the limits in which livestock may be allowed to run at large.

The ordinance regulating public dances, introduced by Commissioner Hengler, of fire and police, defines a public dance hall as "one which is or may be attended or patronized by the public generally either with or without tickets, or charging for admission thereto, and where proceeds thereof are to be devoted to purposes other than benevolent, fraternal, educational or charitable purposes."

Stop at Midnight.
It provides that there can be no dancing in public dance halls between midnight and 6 A. M. and that places must be entirely closed a half hour after midnight. There is a provision against dancing on Sunday night, and it is provided that all such dances shall be under police supervision, that the license fee shall be $24 a year, or $2 per month if application is made after the first month in May, or $2 for single dances. There is a provision against allowing liquor in public dance halls.

The dance hall ordinance will be read a second time next Monday night.

Passed Stock Ordinance.
The commission passed an ordinance extending the limits in which it shall be unlawful for stock to run at large to Sixteenth street on the east and main street on the south. The boulevard is the northern boundary and Avenue D the western boundary.

Commissioner Thompson introduced an ordinance requiring sewer connections from houses on streets containing public sewers. He also introduced an ordinance declaring the opening up or excavation and removal of gravel and sand from gravel or sand pits within city limits a public nuisance, and providing existing pits must be filled in within six months.

The request of the local organization asking the commission to adopt a resolution urging President Harding to recognize the Republic of Ireland was up in the regular course of business. J. P. Jackson, who was present, was asked if he were present to talk on the matter. "If you ask me as an American citizen I am," he replied, and declared that the commission would be doing a grievous wrong to pass such a resolution. The affair was one for Congress and the president, he said, and he quoted Secretary of State Charles E. Hughes as saying that the United States had no right to meddle into the affairs between the English and the Irish. Mr. Jackson said his parents both were born in Ireland but he felt as an American in this country should not mix in it. Dr. P. R. Smith expressed the same sentiment. Word was received by the commission that P. L. Byrne was unable to be present and asked that action be deferred. The commission acceded to the request.

The commission authorized the sending of two delegates to the state farmers' convention at Williston and appointed George Stohl poundmaster.

RETAILERS TO MEET IN FARGO

Many From Western North Dakota to Attend

Many retail merchants in Bismarck and other western North Dakota cities and towns will attend the 23rd annual convention of the North Dakota Retail Merchants' association, which will be held in Fargo, June 7-10.

The first session will be held Tuesday morning, June 7, when the meeting is called to order by E. A. Ricker, president, Fargo Business Men's association. Annual reports of F. P. Mann, president; W. A. Donnelly, secretary, and C. J. Stickney, treasurer, will be made on that day.

An open meeting with presentation of answers to questions propounded by members will be made that afternoon. Among the speakers for the convention are: John A. Cunningham of Dubuque, Iowa; C. S. Wittlesley; Bentley P. Neff, Gen. F. Heindel of Ottumwa, Iowa; J. F. Jordan, Joseph Chapman, of Minneapolis; Tra Banks of Grand Forks; Dan E. Wright, general secretary of the St. Paul association; Usher L. Burdick, president, North Dakota Farm Bureau Federation; A. A. Smith of Minneapolis; and L. R. Montgomery, secretary of the State Fair association.

Booths of manufacturers and exhibitors and special entertainment features will add to the convention.

MANDAN NEWS

MANDAN CRIERS ARRANGE FOR BIG MEETING

Members of the local Town Criers club feel very enthusiastic over the outlook for the coming convention of advertising clubs in this city June 21 and 22. Besides members from the city, North Dakota cities it is expected that there will be speakers from many other points. Mr. B. V. Moore, who is now Cashier of the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis, has written that he is now booked to fill that date for another member of their institution but hopes to be with us instead. Mr. Moore was formerly an officer of the Dakota Trust Company at Fargo and a very earnest worker of the Fargo Town Criers and Commercial club for many years. He took unusual interest in the Vigilance, or Better Business movement while it was in its infancy and is perhaps the best posted man on the subject in this part of the country. The Mandan club will feel very fortunate if definite word is received that Mr. Moore can be here for the June conference.

Mr. H. J. Kenner, executive secretary of the Associated Advertising Clubs writes from New York that because of the Atlanta convention it will be practically impossible for him to visit our friends in North Dakota during the Mandan meeting.

A. B. Mead, Secretary of the Dickinson Town Criers club writes that they expect to send 12 or more representatives to the Mandan meeting. Several North Dakota architects, who will attend their state convention on June 21 and 22, will address the Ad Mens conference at Mandan on the subject of auditoriums and community buildings.

It is expected that Mr. C. G. Ferguson of Minneapolis, who is now vice president of this district will be one of the principal speakers at the organization of the North Dakota Advertising clubs.

MAKE PROGRESS IN MUSICAL COURSE

In connection with the regular class day exercises which took place Wednesday, were special musical numbers which included a piano number by Miss Flora Stebner, a violin solo by Miss Anna Gross, saxophone solo by Ralph Combs and several fine numbers by the high school quartet and the girls' glee club. The work in music has been especially stressed this year in the Mandan schools and Miss Miller, Mr. Bergheim and the pupils themselves are to be congratulated on the results.

A Junior auxiliary to the Mandan Musical club has been formed, officers elected and the organization has been affiliated with the National Federation of Musical Clubs. It is impossible to overestimate the importance of music in our schools, and eventually High School credits will be so arranged that work in instrumental music outside of school may be properly accredited, the pupil therefore not being obliged to lose the best four years of his life in a musical way because of concentrated effort along other lines.

Hostess at Delightful Affair
Miss Mary Gibson was hostess at a delightful affair Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Means. The interesting feature of the party was the announcement of the engagement of Miss Helen Greenwood, the honor guest, to Mr. Frank Aughey of Mandan.

Miss Greenwood is teacher of the first grade in the Central School and Frank Aughey is a Mandan boy, who is known to everyone. Announcement of the date of the marriage has not as yet been made.

To Visit in Minnesota
Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wallace and daughter Katharine will leave June 3 for Ortonville, Minn. They will motor down and remain for the entire summer living in their cottage out at the lake.

Visiting Friends
Miss Daisy Vetter is visiting the Kennedy and H. H. Williams families for a few days.

Mandan Visit
V. A. Etherington of Price was a visitor in Mandan on Monday.

SECURE JURY IN RIOT CASE

Entire Jury Panel Exhausted
Before Men Are Secured in Selfridge Case

The entire jury panel was exhausted and five new men called for jury duty before the jury in the Selfridge riot case was finally impaneled to the satisfaction of the attorneys acting for the state and for the defense. This case, which opened the court calendar here today, was called on a change of venue from Sioux county, and the charge reads that the defendants—Martin Swift, Joseph Swift, Oswin Swift, J. J. Sasek, Lloyd Solomon, Chas. Hayden, Lew Solomon, Paul Craig, Geo. Miller, Paul Craig and Matt Canfield—"Did then and there with force and violence apply to the body of Howard Smith a large quantity of tar and some other adhesive substance, and a large quantity of feathers."

An attempt was made to include in the charge a number of other persons to the future, unknown, but the court, on motion, struck this out.

With the constant challenging of one jurymen after another and some clever fencing by the lawyers, it was not until late afternoon that the jury box was filled and at the request of Attorney Nichols, who is assisting State's Attorney E. W. Johnson of Sioux county in the prosecution of the case, court was adjourned until 9 o'clock Wednesday morning.

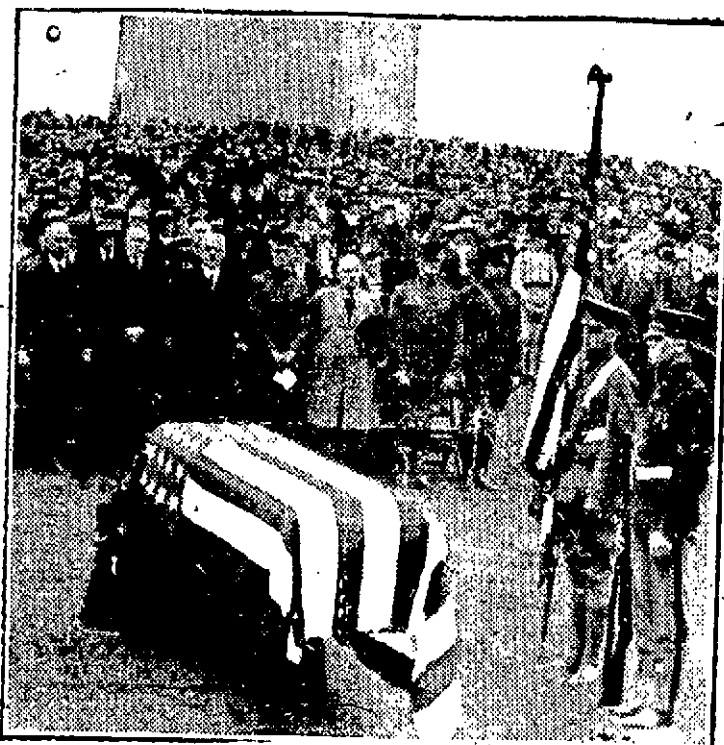

There is an added interest by reason of the fact that Joe Swift, one of the defendants, has been indicted for the murder of Howard Smith, who was killed during a disturbance several months after the tar and feather episode, and will stand trial for his alleged crime after the close of the present case.

Sullivan, Hanley and Sullivan are appearing for the defense and have subpoenaed about 20 witnesses. The state having called nearly an equal number, the town of Selfridge is very actively represented. The case is being tried before Judge Thomas Pugh.

TO ATTEND MUSICAL FEDERATION IN IOWA

Mrs. Emma G. Wheeler will leave Thursday evening for the Tri-Cities, Davenport, Iowa, Moline and Rock Island, Illinois, where she will attend the Biennial of the National Federation of Musical Clubs. Mrs. Wheeler, who is president of the Northern Lights district, comprising the states of North and South Dakota, Minnesota and Iowa, is also a member of the committee on resolutions. Mrs. J. A. Jordin of Fargo is state president, Mrs. R. W. Kibbee of Grafton, state treasurer and Mrs. A. G. Jacobson of Bismarck, state secretary.

The National Federation is represented in this state by 12 clubs, among which are the St. Cecilia of Dickinson, Thursday Musical of Bismarck, Mandan Musical, Minot Musical, Amateur Musical of Fargo, Jamestown Musical. Other cities having clubs in this federation are Grand Forks, New Rockford, Coal Harbor, Grafton, Fessenden and Devils Lake.

This organization has stressed the importance of the Young Artist contests and furnished the funds for them. Their slogan is, "A music club in every city, in every county, in every state in the union, and Soldiers' clubs and Junior boys and girls clubs auxiliary."

The railroads have offered a fare and a half rate for the round trip and a great many delegates are expected to meet in session at the Tri-Cities June 6 to 14.

Mrs. J. H. Newton returned home on Tuesday morning from Chicago, where she has spent the past month as the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Heater.

DON'T SHOOT ALLIGATORS IS GOLF WARNING

Clearwater, Fla., June 1.—Chief of Police Joseph Russell has issued a warning that the first hunter who takes a pot shot at any one of the five alligators that roam at will over Clearwater golf course is going to jail, for the chief, who also is "boss" of the course, is determined that his pets shall not be disturbed.

"If golfers cannot get along with the alligators the golfers will have to play their cow pasture pool elsewhere, that's all there is to it," the chief has declared.

At least five alligators are known to be making their homes on the course. Russell recently discovered a little shaver about two and one-half feet long. How many more are in the vicinity he does not know but the old rule that where there is much smoke there is fire will be found, holds good with alligators and he believes there are several who have not registered.

"Joe," the largest one, named for the chief, is seven and one-half feet in length. Russell says "Joe" is a "secluded sort of quess" because he is seen only in the late afternoon or when high tide raises the level in the water of the creek which "Joe" inhabits. The creek crosses the fairway of No. 3 hole. The other four are from two and one-half to four feet in length. Two of them occupy the creek near No. 3 green, while the other two are near No. 8 green. The two near No. 8 have become so accustomed to the golfers that they pay them only passing notice.

Charles Livingston Bull, the artist, discovered the alligators the first time recently while playing a round with Sewell Ford, the writer, when he walked almost upon a four footer sunning himself.

"What's the idea, trying to give the tourist player a thrill?" asked Bull.

"Partly," Ford replied, "but I believe Russell intends to train a few alligators to act as caddies during the rush next season."

NEEDS OF CHILD IN WAY OF FOOD

Basket Lunches Require Thought and Care in Preparing to Prevent Sameness

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture)

What went into Jane's and Jack's lunch boxes at your house this morning? Were they filled the last minute with what remained on the table after breakfast, supplemented by some of last night's meat and pie, or were the boxes filled with dainty, appetizing lunches, carefully planned and packed?

Growing children have certain special needs in the way of food. Like grown people, they must be supplied with what is necessary for health and strength, but in addition, they must be given, also, what is necessary for growth.

Even when children eat all their meals at home, it is no easy matter to see that they are properly fed; but when they eat part of their meals at school, the difficulty is much greater. It is not easy to make food attractive and to keep it clean when it must be packed and carried in a lunch basket.

Filling Lunch Basket.

The basket lunch is harder to plan and to prepare than the lunch at home. To begin with, many foods cannot be included in it, either because they are not good cold or because they cannot be conveniently packed or easily carried. This leaves fewer foods to choose from, and extra care is necessary to prevent sameness.

Paraffin paper, parchment paper, jelly glasses, and the paper cups and containers for moist foods are a great help in packing lunches. With these helps, foods can be kept from sticking to each other, and such half-solid foods as sliced raw fruits, stewed fruits, custards, and cottage cheese, can be carried in perfect condition.

Good Bread Important.

The quality of the bread used in the basket lunch is especially important because it is commonly served in the form of sandwiches and is, therefore, to be considered, not only as a food in itself, but also as a means of keeping other much needed foods in appetizing and attractive condition.

Variety in breads, too, is more important at this than at other meals, because of the danger of monotony. Wheat bread, whole-wheat bread, corn, rye, or oatmeal breads; nut, raisin, and date breads; beaten biscuit, rolls, crisp baking powder or soda biscuit, toast, zwieback, and crackers may be used in turn to give variety. Rolls hollowed out can be made to hold a large amount of sandwich fillings, which is an advantage at times.

Packing the Lunch.

Many kinds of lunch boxes, pails and baskets are now on the market. Because they can be washed and sealed easily, the simplest boxes and baskets are often better than the more elaborate ones with compartments in which to keep dishes, knives, forks and spoons. With the increase in automobile travel, well-constructed boxes and baskets which can be easily cleaned have come on the market with compartments for keeping food hot or cold and for holding liquids. These are, of course, suitable only for children who ride back and forth, and particularly suitable where several lunches are put up in one household.

The precautions which must be taken to keep the foods clean and safe differ with circumstances. In dusty seasons they should be wrapped particularly well. In hot weather, the use of soft, moist foods in which molds and bacteria are most likely to grow rapidly, should be avoided. Although chopped meat moistened with a dressing of some kind makes a good sandwich filling, such foods are less desirable in hot weather than slices of meat, peanut butter, or other foods less liable to spoil.

Paper napkins or the somewhat heavier paper towels of much the same size are very useful for packing lunches, and, like paraffin and parchment paper, may now be obtained at a low price, particularly if bought in rather large quantities. If no provision is made in the school for serving lunches, an extra napkin, either of paper or cloth, should be put in the basket, to be spread over the school desk when the lunch is eaten. Napkins can be made out of cotton crepe at a cost of a very few cents each. The crepe may be bought by the yard, and should be cut into squares and fringed. Such napkins have the advantage of not needing to be ironed.

In packing the lunch basket, put at the bottom the things least likely to crush, and wrap the sandwiches, etc., into neat parcels, not all in one.

To Make Rich Red Blood

Revitalize your worn-out exhausted nerves and increase your strength and endurance

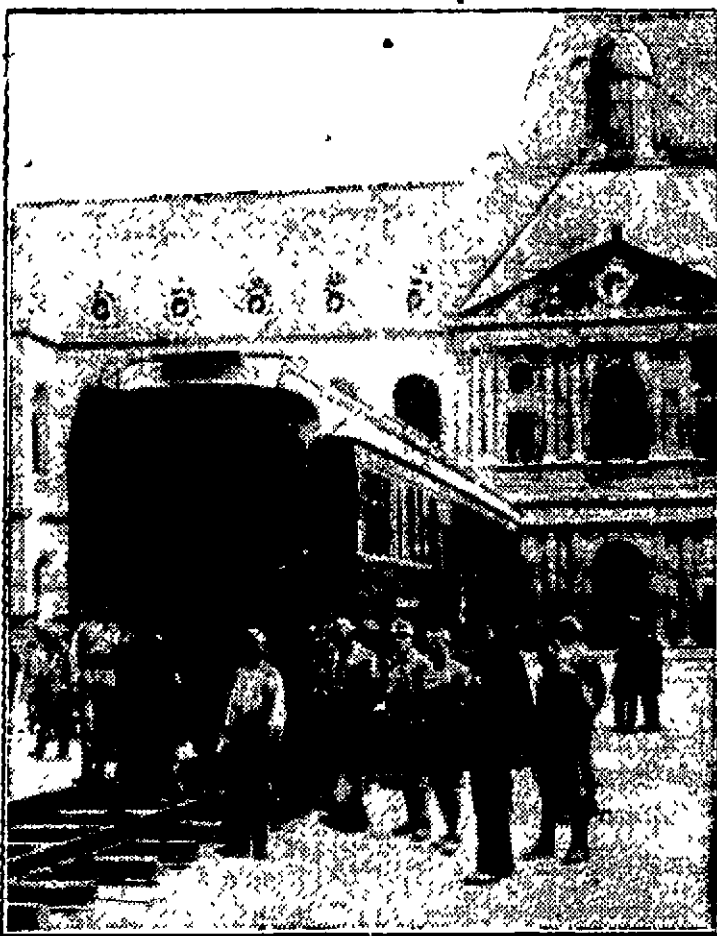

Take Nuxated Iron, not metallic iron which people usually take, but pure organic iron—Nuxated Iron—which is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples. One dose of Nuxated Iron is estimated to be approximately equivalent (in organic iron content) to eating one-half quart of spinach, one quart of green vegetables or half a dozen apples. It is like taking extract of beef instead of eating pounds of meat. Nuxated Iron is partially predigested and ready for almost immediate absorption and assimilation by the blood, while metallic iron is non-assimilable. It comes from the action of strong acids on small pieces of iron filings.

Over 4,000,000 people annually are using Nuxated Iron. It will not irritate the teeth nor disturb the stomach. A few doses will often commence to enrich your blood. Your money will not be refunded by the manufacturers if you do not obtain satisfactory results.

Beware of substitutes. All types insist on having genuine Nuxated Iron—Nuxated Iron. Look for the letters N I on every tablet. Sold by all druggists.

ARMISTICE CAR IN MUSEUM

In this French railroad car the Germans signed the armistice that on Nov. 11, 1918, ended the World War. The car is shown in the courtyard of Les Invalides, the famous Parisian museum of military relics. It was moved in on special tracks constructed for the purpose. Behind the museum tower rises the dome of Napoleon's tomb.

PROBLEMS OF DISABLED MEN BEFORE SESSION

Detroit, Mich., June 1.—Questions of vital interest to disabled service men, including a national legislative program with respect to vocational training, war risk insurance, hospitalization, medical treatment, compensation, and bonus, will be discussed here during the first national convention of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, to be held here June 27 to 30, inclusive.

Each chapter of disabled war veterans in the country is to be represented at the meeting, under present plans. A permanent national constitution will be adopted and the organization will be incorporated under a national charter. Permanent national headquarters will be selected during the convention and a national emblem decided upon. A national ritual of the organization is to be framed.

The convention is expected to bring together the largest delegation of disabled war veterans ever assembled in America, according to Judge Robert S. Murr, president of the national executive board of the organization.

Among the speakers of national reputation who will address the convention is Uel W. Lamkin, director of the federal board of vocational education and U. S. Cummings, surgeon general of the United States Health Service, who will discuss hospital needs.

Officials of the organization's national executive board announce that Cleveland and Buffalo will send approximately 200 delegates each to a meeting, while Cincinnati expects to send 100. Other cities that have thus far announced large delegations include New Orleans, Tucson, Ariz., Seattle, Wash., and Passaic, N. J.

Old Dry-Goods Box Aids Bread Making

In making bread the housekeeper often finds it difficult, particularly in the winter months, to hold her sponge or dough at the right temperature so that it will rise in a shorter period of time. She will find a sponge box or bread raiser a great help in keeping the proper temperature. Such a box can be made from an ordinary dry-goods packing box. The following directions for making one are given by the United States Department of Agriculture in Farmers' Bulletin 927, "Farm Home Conveniences."

A box 20 by 20 by 20 inches is a convenient size. About 10 inches from the bottom of the box a shelf made of slats or strips of wood rests on cleats fastened to the sides of the box. A second shelf is placed 4 inches above the lower one. The shelves can be removed when cleaning the box. Below the lower shelf a sheet of galvanized iron, slightly wider than the shelf, is inserted. It is curved in order to make it slip in and stay in place securely. This prevents scorching of the lower shelf when a lamp is placed below and also helps to distribute the heat more evenly. The door is hinged and fastened with a thumb latch or hook and staple.

Several small holes are bored in the lower and upper parts of the sides and in the top of the box to promote circulation of air. A cork, bored through the center to admit a straight thermometer, is inserted in one of the holes in the top of the box. A Fahrenheit thermometer that registers as high as 100 degrees can be used. Such a thermometer may be ordered through a hardware dealer or directly from an instrument dealer.

To avoid all danger of fire, the box should be lined with asbestos or tin when a kerosene lamp is used for heating. A 16-candlepower light will heat the box well, or a small, inexpensive night lamp may be placed in the bottom. A shallow pan of water should be put on the lower shelf so that the air will be kept moist.

The bowl of sponge or pans of dough are placed on the upper shelf. The temperature of the box should be kept as near 80 degrees F. as possible (80 to 88 degrees F.) when bread is made in the quick way. If a sponge is set overnight, 65 to 70 degrees F. is the better temperature until the dough is made in the morning, after which the temperature may be increased to 80 degrees F. The temperature in the box may be varied by raising or lowering the flame of the lamp or by using warm or cold water in the shallow pan.

ALIVE? YOU BET! HE'S ONLY 124

The other day down in Washington, a sharp-eyed auditor for the U. S. Interior Department, noticed "John Smith, Shell Lake, Minn." had been on the Indian pension list for 50 years. "Aha!" said the auditor and immediately wrote a letter to the U. S. attorney at Minneapolis. Was John alive? Or was some faker getting the money? John says he's alive! He's a Chippewa Chief. Real name, Ka-Be-Nah-Gwey Wence. "Alive, huh?" grunted John, as the white men called him. "I'm only 134 years old!" A year ago John thought he was only 120. But there was an error in computing his age which cost him four years he says.

BEAUTY IS HARMONY

There can be no harmony, and therefore no beauty, in a home in which the wife and mother is cross and irritable and dull-spirited. Often as not, disease is at the bottom of such a condition.

Let the woman who is always tired and who suffers from low spirits and mysterious aches and pains, only try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She will then see that the beauty and harmony will be restored to her home with the return of her health and good spirits. Adv.

75 MILLION CROP LOSS IN PRICE SLUMP

Topeka, Kan., June 1.—Shrinkage in values of last year's crops still in the bin on Kansas farms represent a loss of approximately $75,000,000 to Kansas farmers, comparing prices at present with those prior to when the slump set in last fall. This figure is based on a recent report issued by J. C. Mohler, secretary of the state board of agriculture, showing the enormous amounts of grain still unsold.

On the 25,950,000 bushels of wheat, or 18 per cent of the entire last year's crop, the price in the last six months has deteriorated on an average of $1 a bushel; on the 33,352,000 bushels of corn, 47.7 per cent of last year's crop still on hand, the price has shrunk an average of more than 50 cents; and on the 23,929,000 bushels of oats still in the farmers' bins, the price shrinkage has been 33 1/2 cents a bushel—an aggregate shrinkage on these holdings alone of $65,736,000, while the decreased value on other retained grain crops would aggregate more than $10,000,000, according to Secretary Mohler. This does not take into consideration the decrease in prices on grains marketed the past few months.

One western Kansas county—Rooks—alone has nearly 1,000,000 bushels of wheat still in on the farms while 14 Kansas counties have in excess of 500,000 bushels each. To move to market the volume of stored grains would require 100,000 cars.

There was a fifth more wheat and four times as much corn and oats on Kansas farms on April 15, than on that date a year ago. A year ago it was freely admitted by railroad officials that it would be a physical impossibility to move the old crops and at the same time take care of the avalanche of wheat which begins moving from the farms about July 1. This year, however, railroad officials are now optimistic about coping with the situation, although the congestion admittedly is far worse than it was a year ago. They point to the fact, however, that there were no cars available a year ago while this year there are plenty.

G. W. Duvall, Jr., football star of Westminster College, Fulton, Mo., obtained a license to marry Zaida Sherman, a student at William Woods College, also in Fulton. But President Serena of the girl's school thought Miss Sherman should consult her parents. So he put her in an auto and speeded her homeward. Duvall pursued in a taxi, but a tire blew up and he lost the race.

FEEDING THE FAMILY.

The children of the family, being the most important members as to proper feeding, may follow the English custom, which is ideal, of having a table of their own, where they are not permitted any compromise between what they ought to have and what they want. The result is of course sturdy, healthy youngsters. A few American families are now following this system, but the most as yet from necessity; others from indifference allow the children to eat with the family, where they usually have what they cry for, for the sake of peace at the sacrifice of manners, morals and physique.

The average housemother cannot run two sets of meals and serve at the same time the needs of the young and the desires of the old.
One may restrict the diet of the elders to conform to the food which should be given the young for the two meals of the day, having dinner at noon, or let the little people have supper by themselves earlier than the evening dinner hour.
Children under five should never be given food not suited to their age and condition. The problem then is to serve meals which will be suitable for the whole family for breakfast and luncheon, and neither unbalanced nor inadequate for either child or adult.

In the feeding of children consideration must be made in the difference between a child and an adult. In comparison of size the child is doing a great deal more work than the adult, but his natural appetite will take care of the amount of food needed to build the body and keep up energy. The child's food, because he has to use more, must be easily digested, more wholesome and be better balanced, or trouble will follow.

The child, fortunately, who has not been pampered, does not need a variety of food to stimulate the appetite, neither sauces nor condiments; "hunger is the best sauce."

ROTARY CLUB PAYS TRIBUTE TO WAR HEROES

Several New Members Are Received at Regular Weekly Luncheon at McKenzie

Rotary paid tribute to the veterans of three wars at their noon luncheon at the McKenzie hotel today. Veterans of the Civil, Spanish and World War were guests of the club. It was only possible to entertain a few representatives of the Spanish and World War veterans, but most of the local post of the G. A. R. were present.

Several veterans of the World War who are receiving medical attention at the Bismarck hospital attended the luncheon. There was music by a special quartet and C. L. Young gave an inspiring address upon the necessity of maintaining the high ideals of public service fixed during the war.

John MacLeod, the boy welfare worker, was present for the first Rotary luncheon. He told of the preliminary steps taken to arouse an interest among the boys in baseball and general athletics. Several teams have been formed among the boys and committees of Rotarians will be named to co-operate with Mr. MacLeod in making the work among the boys a success.

The following new members have been admitted at the last two meetings: Birlea Ward, laundryman; John Larson, contractor; Theodore Quarrud, automobile accessories; John MacLeod, boy welfare; G. M. Langum, business college; and B. K. Skeels, electrical supplies.

FOUR SOLDIERS ARE SLAIN IN IRISH ATTACK

Road Bombed as Men on Their Way to Rifle Practice

Cork, Ireland, June 1.—(By the Associated Press.)—Four soldiers were killed, two mortally wounded and 12 slightly wounded when they were attacked at 8 o'clock this morning while marching from Youghall barracks to the rifle range.

Near the golf links the road had been mined and in intense fire was opened on the soldiers. Bombs also were used. The injured soldiers replied to the fire of the attacking party.

A curate who was driving to celebrate mass got into the line of fire and was wounded. His driver was killed.

they were ordered to surrender and quickly removed to the prison camps. All persons not deputized as special officers were ordered to disarm by noon by Mayor T. D. Evans. Persons carrying guns will be arrested under the mayor's order.

Fires continued to rage all morning in the negro section but at 11:30 it was believed that the white residence districts which were imperiled would escape.

Attorney General Barrett took up his headquarters at city hall and announced that Col. B. H. Markham, of Oklahoma City, would be in command of field operations of the guardsmen.

The negroes assembled as refugees and prisoners were being cared for by civic organizations and private citizens who volunteered for the work.

Stream Along Streets.
Throughout the morning long lines of negroes streamed along the streets leading to convention hall. Many wore their night clothes and ran to safety in bare feet. Their sunken eyes told of a sleepless night and their faces bespoke gripping fear. Men, women and children carried bundles of clothing on their heads and backs. The articles they saved were varied and in many cases would have been ludicrous but for the gravity of the situation. An old woman clung to a bible, there a girl with disheveled hair

Supported Old Man.

In one case an aged negro woman supported an old man wrapped about with quilts and blankets and apparently very sick. He was immediately placed in an automobile and hurried to a hospital.

But all those who came to convention hall were not non-combatants. Repeatedly grim-faced men, heavily armed, whirled up at the big hall directly from the scene of fighting under the big hill on North Greenwood street. With them, closely guarded, were negro prisoners captured with guns during the fray. Negro domestics were taken from their quarters and moved to the ball park.

The Banking Business Is Your Business

No business, much less that of banking, can be operated independent of the interests of the good people of its community. In fact, the prosperity of the financial institution simply reflects that of the people whom it serves and of the community.

It is simply a credit center in which each depositor has an interest and for which each borrower has a requirement. Its greatest asset is the confidence which reposes in it—a confidence which is the case of the well managed financial institution is justified by lawful regulation and sound, conservative operation.

There is no question that business and banking hand in hand are going on to greater achievement and greater development, which will be aided by our positive citizens maintaining a constructive attitude and scrutinizing carefully the motives of any whose attitude is otherwise.

(Established 1873)

THE ODD FELLOWS HOME

Bismarck extends to visiting Odd Fellows and Rebekahs a hearty welcome. Every citizen must feel not only the natural desire to be hospitable to strangers within our gates but must have a feeling of respect for an order which is gathered here to take a forward step in carrying out the principles of the fraternity.

The development of fraternities in America has been one of steady growth and broadening conception of the doctrines of helpfulness and service upon which they were founded. Odd Fellowship in America was born in a little inn in Baltimore, Maryland, April 26, 1810. As the principles on which the sentiment known as Odd Fellowship afterward began to crystallize and take definite shape the need for an expression became felt which embody in broad terms the idea of those active in the formation of the Society, and after many attempts the concise, expressive, terse, broad "Command" was given which has been the watchword of the Order throughout the history.

It is a natural step in the comprehensive development of this principle that the Odd Fellows of North Dakota should desire to establish a home for aged members and for widows and orphans. One of the big problems of the convention here is the selection of a site for the home.

"For some time after the idea (the circumscribing compasses of duty of Odd Fellows as expressed by the word "Command") became an institution crude methods of executing that "Command" served the purpose of the Order; but, with increase in numbers, a broadened sense of duty, higher conceptions of our responsibility and social development, came the desire to improve, and while the sick and funeral and widows' and orphans' benefits amounted to enormous sums of money, and the personal attentions of the brethren did very much to alleviate suffering and want, it soon became apparent that much remained to be done before the system could be considered perfect, or as perfect as could be," says a writer on the growth of Odd Fellowship, in explaining the decision of the lodge to build homes.

Bismarck not only invited and welcomed the grand lodge to the city but also invites and welcomes the location of the North Dakota Odd Fellows home in this city. Bismarck Odd Fellows have many convincing arguments to offer to the members of the grand lodge. An institution for aged, widows and orphans is a failure if it but offers a place of shelter. It must offer peace and contentment to the aged; hope and opportunity for the young.

A state capital offers a wealth of interesting studies to the adults who may be in the home. The state museum contains a wealth of material for interesting study and is continually being enlarged. The state and city libraries offer excellent facilities for the studious, and with the completion of the new Memorial building Bismarck will contain one of the finest state libraries and museums in the United States. The governmental departments and legislature would furnish interesting and instructive study to those in the home. The completion of the new Missouri river bridge will tie together a community of nearly 15,000 people. The progressive spirit dominating the city of Bismarck, as evidenced in the paving program, the present program of beautification of Custer park, serious attention to development of boys' welfare through employment of an experienced director and the building of a swimming pool, can not help impress the visiting delegates. It is the sort of community in which a home should be located. The Odd Fellows who have not visited Bismarck in years will find a changed city—changed through growth and a clearer comprehension of civic responsibilities, just as the Odd Fellows lodge has broadened its comprehension of its true mission through years of steady growth. The Capital City is an ideal location from every aspect. It won't be long before the Twin Cities of North Dakota become the metropolis of the state.

Senator France sails to investigate Russia. That's a dangerous name to take into Lenin's lair.

Costs less to ship meat from New Zealand to San Francisco than from Colorado. Maybe the Chinese were wise in building canals instead of railroads.

In a flood of memoirs, various Washington officials are tattling on each other. About the only war workers who got along together without wrangling were the boys who did the fighting.

ONE STEP TOWARD SANITY

The Borah rider to the naval appropriations bill, which the Senate adopted unanimously, "authorizes and requests" the president to call a conference of the leading navy powers to discuss the question of the limitation of naval armaments.

These seems to be little doubt that the House will adopt the rider with slight if any modification.

It will then be up to President Harding to act upon the authorization and "request" or not, as he sees fit.

He will not be bound to act, for under the constitution the president and not Congress is charged with the duty and responsibility of initiating all activities of the government which have to do with foreign relations.

But it is hardly conceivable that the president will not be very greatly influenced by such a unanimous expression of congressional opinion.

Especially is this so, in view of the fact that the congressional action is undoubtedly a true reflection of the sentiment of the country.

While it is easy to be over-enthusiastic as to the probability of quick results from the crusade to substitute sanity for insanity in the armament competition, one must be hopelessly pessimistic who does not view the Senate vote as an incident of great significance and pregnant with vast possibilities.

The real home problem these days is not to get the curtain-stretchers crooked.

"ALL THE TRAFFIC CAN BEAR"

Freight charges entering into the production cost of pig iron made in the Pittsburgh district total $10.48 a ton, according to the Wall Street Journal.

Ten years ago the selling price of pig iron f. o. b. Pittsburgh was $13.20 a ton.

The comparison needs no comment.

You find the same thing in other industries—the story of the enormous part played by freight rates in the consumer's cost of living.

Silently, inexorably, high freight rates are changing the whole system of manufacturing and distribution of necessities and compelling curtailment of the use of commodities.

One of the most striking changes, says the Department of Agriculture, is being brought about in farming.

Increased transportation costs are compelling farmers to stop specializing on any certain crop and to grow more of their own food.

"The grain farmer in many instances buys even his potatoes and green vegetables. The fruit farmer buys his dairy products. And even the man who raises milk for creamery, condensary or cheese factory is likely to send his cream or milk away, feed the skim milk or whey to the calves, and not make his own butter."

Such are conditions created by specialized farming, but—

"The American farmer is not going to be able this year to pay freight on water. Water makes up a large part of fresh fruits and vegetables. The answer is, that he must grow his own table food."

That solves the question for the farmer. But how about the rest of us who, lacking time or land to grow our own food, are unable to dodge high freight charges in food as well as other living costs?

March will be Harding and Coolidge, especially after the fourth.

Money never talks louder than after it has kissed one goodbye.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not represent the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

CONSIDER SPINACH

Should you like to be in the spinach business for a living—raising spinach?

Down in Texas the farmer who grows the spinach sells it for shipment to Chicago, says the Railway Age, at $5 a ton. The cost of shipping it to Chicago is $30.66—only six times as much to the railroad for hauling it as the farmer gets for raising it!

But there is more yet to this tale of what there is in the spinach business—raising spinach. There is something else as to what there is in eating spinach.

The spinach that brings the Texas farmer $5 a ton and brings the railroad that hauls it to the Chicago market $30.00 a ton lands on the dinner table of the Chicago spinach eater at $300 a ton.

And that, as anybody can see at a glance, is only sixty times the $5 a ton the Texas farmer gets for his spinach as it starts on its journey to $300 a ton.

Yes, consider spinach. Consider also the spinach grower who does not get anything for it. Especially consider the public against whose pocket the price of the spinach multiplies sixty times on the way from the farm to the retail delivery wagon.—New York Herald.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By Olive Barton Roberts

It was terrible to think of what harm they had done. "Who?" cried Nick. "Who's out to sea, Mr. Weatherman?" "The Mink family," explained the fairy. "Marty came to me yesterday and said he was giving a fishing party to his friends. He had dug a nice hole in the ice 'n' everything, knowing that spring was so near and there wouldn't be much more chance to have that kind of a party, for the first flood would be likely to break the ice up in pieces and carry it off, and that's exactly what has happened, I fear. Old Man Flood always works in a hurry." "Oh!" said Nick. "We're so sorry. Mr. Weatherman. What can we do to help?" "I'll unlock the door of the Nuisance Fairies again and let out Jack Frost," answered Sprinkle-Blow. "He can be useful at times, although he has a bad habit of snooping around when he isn't in the least wanted." (Copyright 1921 by Newspaper Enterprise.

MADAME CURIE MAKES UP HER MIND ABOUT US

BY N. W. QUINN

Pittsburgh, June 1.—Madame Curie knows now what she thinks of America and Americans. A week after her arrival from France the famous discoverer of radium begged to be excused—she had had only time for superficial opinions, and scientists cannot think superficially.

But now—After visiting several of our greatest cities and educational institutions, after receiving from President Harding a $100,000 gift of radium presented by American women.

After inspecting the laboratory here in which most of the world's supply of radium is refined—

The madame speaks. She has found much that is good in us, some that is—well, not so good. AMERICAN WOMEN—Ah, yes, how she admires them! So different, so much more active, so much more independent than the European women.

AMERICAN CITIZENS—Wonderful, to be sure. But she dislikes the noise, the push, the jam. It tires her so—but so does Paris.

NEW YORK—Long and narrow, cold and steeley. Too much marble, too few flowers. Too many people, too few children.

WASHINGTON—She likes it best of all. The parks and gardens and statues—ah, there is an inspiration and a happiness.

OUR RIVERS—The Hudson—majestic but spoiled by commerce! The Potomac—there's a river you can take to your heart and love!

SMOKING—BY WOMEN—She likes best those women who confess they do smoke—for then you can ask how much.

WHY

It Is Better to Wear a Smile Than a Frown.

A big stockman has said that you cannot do as much work with a mean horse as you can with one that is easily managed, and that it takes more time to milk an excitable kicking cow than it does to milk one that is quiet and gentle. A mean temper, he claims, in most cases is the result of improper handling. And the habits farm animals have are generally the result of their training. Patience and gentleness are the prime requisites to the proper training of farm animals.

If it pays in time and trouble to give the young animals the right care, how much more essential is it to use patience, tact and gentleness in the training and care of children. Many a boy and girl has gone to the bad, made a wreck of life, simply because those who had the care of them did not understand them. Instead of tactful kindness they were harsh and severe. There are few, very few, who are at heart vicious. Under the surface of what seems to be a mean, ugly boy or girl, may be a poor, lonely heart that is breaking for a sympathetic smile, a word of encouragement, a chance to be a friend to a friend. That is why folks should always wear a smile, a real genuine heart smile. Then they never miss giving cheer and a boost to the good to all they meet, and if they have the responsibility of a child, it should have the benefit of all the love and patience at their command.—Thrift Magazine.

EYES GROW KEENER IN DARK

Why the Sight Then Is More Sensitive Than in the Light, Explained by Scientists.

On enjoying a dark room after a stay in the outside daylight the eye at once begins to increase in sensitivity. At first this increase appears to be slow, but after five minutes the increase is quite rapid, the eye acquiring a sensitivity several hundred times its initial value, says a writer in the Journal of General Physiology.

After 30 minutes' sojourn in the dark the sensitivity still increases, but more slowly than before, and after 45 minutes or an hour the maximum sensitivity is reached. The final sensitivity varies slightly with different people, but in fully adapted condition the eye is easily 5,000 or 10,000 times more sensitive than it was at the beginning. These facts are obtained from a study of the sensitiveness of the eye in the dark made by Selig Hecht of Creighton university, Omaha. Mr. Hecht's study goes to show that the increased sensitiveness is due to a reversible photo-chemical reaction within the retina, involving photosensitive substance and its two products of decomposition.

Why Loafers Should Be Banned.

Loafers used to hang out in lively places in the days when the horse was king; now the tribe of sundogs is inclined to transfer its love and affection to the garage, observes a writer in the current issue of American Motorist. Especially is this true of the small town or suburban establishment. The man who knows the first elements of successful business management will promptly forbid this from the very start. He need not waste any politeness in impressing upon the do-nothings that it is their absence only which is desired. All of this was inconspicuously recognized and guarded against by a sign seen in an up-to-date garage on the road to the White mountains. The sign read: "If you have nothing to do, don't come here to do it."

Why Chinese Hold Autumn Festival.

The Chinese owe their mid-autumn festival to the Emperor Tung Ming-huang and his magician in chief. It is reported that one evening this eminent couple adjourned to the palace yard to view the full moon and the magician, casting his rod, converted it into a bridge and bade the emperor cross, and so transported him to the moon. Like a good tourist, he made haste to visit all places of interest and in due course arrived at the palace of the moon. Here there was an entertainment in progress and the royal visitor gave himself up to song and dance. Returning to the earth he composed a poem in praise of the moon. The fame of his visit spread, and to this day, the emperor's nocturnal trip is an annual occasion for rejoicing in China.

How to Use Old Auto Cushions.

Cushions that helped make your car an easy-riding one in its day should not be junked when the car is given up as lost by automobile doctors. Keep them; if necessary, re-cover them, then place them in front of an open fireplace.

If you wish to toast marshmallows or roast popcorn, you will have an excellent seat. By resting your elbows on your knees you keep your arms from growing tired while the roasting or toasting goes on.

Any housewife could think of a dozen uses for old cushions, and for once the man of the house will agree that "that old junk" makes a welcome addition to a fireside seat in his smoking room.—Popular Science Monthly.

Why Widows Wear Caps.

Because when the Romans were in England they used to shave their heads as a sign of mourning, and as women could not let herself be seen with a bald head she made herself a pretty cap. Though the necessity for it has long since passed away, the cap still remains.

CANNOT PRAISE IT ENOUGH SAYS IOWA WOMAN

Esteemed Fort Dodge Woman

Says Tanlac Was Simply A Blessing to Her

"Tanic certainly has done me a world of good, and the best I can say for it is not half what it deserves," said Mrs. Ellen Coney, a highly esteemed resident of 1622 Third Avenue South, Fort Dodge, Ia.

"For three years I suffered with a bad case of stomach trouble, and it seemed that I just couldn't get any relief. I couldn't eat anything without suffering from sour stomach and bloating with gas for hours. My sleep was restless and broken and I used to lie awake for hours so nervous I couldn't close my eyes.

"One day my son brought home a bottle of Tanlac, and it helped me so much that I kept taking it until I finished my seventh bottle and was feeling fine. I can eat almost anything I want now without suffering with my stomach, and I feel better and stronger than I have in a long time. I sleep well, too, and this is one of the greatest blessings Tanlac has given me. It certainly is a grand medicine."

PEOPLE'S FORUM

APPRECiate FLOWERS

May 31, 1921.

Bismarck Tribune: To the War Mothers of Bismarck: In behalf of the disabled soldiers, sailors and marines in the Bismarck hospital who were visited and presented with beautiful, fragrant bouquets of real live Poppies and Carnations; also American flags and kind words on Memorial day, I wish to extend our hearty "thanks" in these few words.

The old saying is still true, "Give us our flowers while we still live," and we know of no other organization that is doing more toward bringing happiness, and comforting the disabled veterans than the "War Mothers" and Auxiliary.

POETS' CORNER

APPLE BLOSSOMS.

(Florence Bonner.)

There's nothing quite so nice, I think, As apple blossoms fresh and pink; Each rosy petal's dewy lip Reveals a Master's workmanship. And wrapped within each fragrant bloom Will be a tiny apple soon.

There's nothing quite so fair, to me As a sweet-scented apple tree; As, filled with lovely fragrant bloom It waits to us its rare perfume. While lulling bird and droning bee, Flit back and forth in ecstasy.

How filled with beauty Nature's ways, On which we fondly rest our gaze! The blossoms soon will downward whirl, Each edged with faintest tints of pearl.

And, hidden by their leafy screen, Are baby apples round and green.

Sweet apple blossoms bring to me, A scene of things that used to be; I see again my childhood's home, And places where I loved to roam. And, ever shall this scene remain One filled with pleasure, and with pain.

With the Movies

A STRANGE HUSBAND

"Her Unwilling Husband" believes in writing on the wall. He entered the house of a stranger, and five minutes thereafter he was introduced by a beautiful girl to another man as her husband. A storm forces the three to spend the night under one roof, and the pseudo husband is obliged to play host in a strange house to a strange guest.

Which room was his—supposedly the house's master? Which room his guest's? The questions sped through his mind as he mounted the stairs. But the girl was clever. On a mirror she wrote "Room No. 1." His left, and he dashed it on the wall. This is only one of the many farcical situations created by Kenneth B. Clarke in Blanche Sweet's newest Jesse D. Hampton-Pathe feature, "Her Unwilling Husband," which comes to the Rex theater today.

The cast is a very small one, there being but three leading characters in the story. Edwin Stevens is the unwilling husband of the title, and Albert Roscoe is the ex-fiance. Paul Scardon directed.

As an added attraction to this feature Jack Dempsey will be seen in the only picture he has made of his training for the big fight.

"ISOBEL" AT ELTINGE TOMORROW

The James Oliver Curwood stories have furnished material for some of the best screen plays greatest among them in the past being "River's End." It is a strong statement but nevertheless a true one, to say that "Isobel" or "Trail's End" is just as fine a picture as the above. The Curwood stories are prominent for two attributes which they always contain, power and human appeal. "Isobel" has for its leading characters Jane Novak and House Peters, both talented players. Jane Novak has an appealing charm which along with her natural beauty makes her picture roles live with human touch. House Peters is just the rugged clean cut sort of a fellow to make an honest goodness man in the uniform of the Northwest Mounted Police. As Sergeant Billy McVeigh he spends months in the Northland on the trail of a lawbreaker. Months without the sight of a woman's face—until he meets Isobel. And here begins a story as only James Oliver Curwood can tell it with none of its power and beauty lost on the screen. The Eltinge offers "Isobel" for three days beginning Thursday. A two-reel comedy will be shown on the same program.

Common Errors in English and How to Avoid Them

"THEM," AS AN ADJECTIVE.

PAID use of such expressions as "I saw them boys there," is, of course, one of those persons who exercise even a moderate degree of care in speaking, would not be guilty. Yet the use of "them" as an adjective is not limited by any means to those who are uneducated or careless in other respects. Perhaps this is due, as are so many other examples of inelegant or faulty speech, to the effect of constant repetition. A person of education hears others employ the expression, "them" boys, or "those kind," and similar ungrammatical expressions, and falls unconsciously into the same errors.

"Them" is a pronoun, third person, plural, objective case form of "they," and should never be employed as an adjective, before a noun, instead of "those" or "these." Therefore, "I saw them boys," and similar expressions, should be "I saw those boys, or 'I saw these boys,' etc., etc."

STILL TO MAKE BATTERY WATER

Simple and Inexpensive Contrivance Can Be Put Together by Any Handy Mechanic.

DETAILS OF CONSTRUCTION

Boiler or Tank in Which Water is Turned to Steam is Made of Quart or Half-Gallon Can or Bucket With Rolled Seams.

With the greatly increasing use of storage batteries in automobiles the demand for pure or distilled water has increased. It is unnecessary to purchase this water or pay the garage man to put it in the battery. With this simple and inexpensive still any one can distill water for recharging the batteries as the occasion requires.

As shown in the illustration accompanying this article, the boiler or tank in which the water is turned to steam, is made of a quart or half-gallon can or bucket with rolled seams. Be sure they are not soldered at the bottom. The top of the can or bucket is open. Procure a large tin funnel that will fit over the top of the can and then solder firmly and tightly in place as shown. This completes the boiler.

The condenser consists of three lengths of glass tubing each 12 inches in length. These tubes pass through a larger tube or a piece of iron pipe or brass tube of sufficient size to accommodate the tubes with some space between them. Fit a large cork into each end of the large pipe or tube and pass the three glass tubes through the corks. Then into each cork fit a short length of glass tube, one at the bottom, the other near the top of the large tube. Connect the free ends of the long tubes with rubber tubing so that they will form one long continuous tube.

Fill the boiler half full of clean water by submerging, and place it over a gas flame until the water comes to a boil. Connect the top of the funnel with one free end of the glass tube through the condenser by a

An automobile valve cannot be either an inlet or an exhaust. It can be an inlet only on the engine, operated by the piston's suction downward. The exhaust valve must be forced open against a pressure of the burned gases in the cylinder and therefore must be mechanically operated.

WAGES SLASHED ON RAILROADS; RATES FOLLOW?

of. At the same time Gen. Atterbury demanded immediate abrogation of the national ship crafts agreements, which, he declared, would further reduce the railroads' labor bill by $300,000,000.
The board, however, took no action on the demands at that time and it was not until the following month that distinct wage cases came to the board's attention. The Erie Railroad and the New York Central Lines then took steps toward a reduction by presenting the matter to their employees. No agreement was reached, however, and the dispute finally reached the labor board.

ply company for the operation of its booster pumps "are essentially unfair, unreasonable and discriminatory and will, therefore, require that each corporation or individual share their proportion of increases or decreases in the cost of service as may be found equitable and reasonable." "Contract's that may possibly interfere with the right of just administration of the police powers of the state are not considered enforceable."
In arriving at the value of the property, the commission order states, the commission "has used the original cost or prudent investment theory insofar as available information would permit, but because of the fact that most of the early records of the company were destroyed by a flood, some difficulty was encountered."

Valuation of $410,000.
The total construction cost of the property as of May 1, 1921, is found to be $355,484, which includes an allowance of 12 per cent to cover engineering, superintendence, interest during construction, etc. Of this amount $252,274 is a historical cost of the electric property. It is stated and $103,210 of the steam property. The commission adds $15,000 for working capital.

The commission recites that attorneys for both sides in the rate controversy had stipulated a valuation as follows: Physical value of plant, $355,484; working capital, $15,000; all other values, $30,516, making a total of $401,000.

Allows 8 Per Cent.
The commission states that it "considers that an eight per cent return on the value of the property is fair and reasonable in the present case. This would require a return of $32,800.72 on a total investment of $310,014.15. On the basis of the present rates, were they in effect for twelve months, a much greater return would be developed."

The commission opinion says that "the Hughes Electric company will be required to install the system of accounts prescribed by the commission for electric utilities, and will render monthly statements of operating revenues, expenses, and changes in plant affecting rate-making not later than

What's your first name?

I know your last name--it's the same as mine.
And our first names begin alike; but the ending, that's where the difference may show up.

Consumer is your last name—mine, too.
My first name is Careful, but one branch of the family answers to Careless. Where do you come in?
If you are not sure, then here is a sure test.
Careless Consumer says advertising is all "bunk," that it's a waste of time to read it, a waste of thought to believe it, and a waste of money to buy things advertised.
Careful Consumer, that's me says time spent reading advertisements is well invested, that here you get news of the latest and best things made, word as to where to get them, what they cost, what they will do; and that you have the pick of the whole market of the whole country, and the pick of the particular kind, shape, size and color that best suits your taste and fits your purse.

If you are not sure who you are, try reading advertisements for a while. Then you will know, for you, too, will be Careful Consumer.

"In Every Respect" says the Good Judge

You get more genuine chewing satisfaction from the Real Tobacco Chew than you ever got from the ordinary kind.
The good tobacco taste lasts so long—a small chew of this class of tobacco lasts much longer than a big chew of the old kind. That's why it costs less to use.

Any man who has used both kinds will tell you that.
